

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the America.
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.
The steamship America, with stores from Liverpool to the 29th ult., arrived from Halifax today. She brings full accounts from the European governments.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE.

The English government had contracted with three large iron companies, to furnish sixty-eight-pounders, as fast as they can be cast.

Good bills of exchange were in circulation in London, to a large amount. They purport to be drawn by the Barbadoes branch Colony Bank, on the parent establishment, and it is supposed they were manufactured in New York. It was estimated that £18,500 worth of those drafts had been issued, and were in circulation.

The demand on the cavalry was so urgent that the government had given orders for the immediate purchase of a number of fine year-old horses.

Sixty-two transports will be ready at Plymouth, on March 1st. The supplement corps of surgeons engaged in the military hospitals at Paris and Marseilles, had been ordered to be ready for active service, on notice. A letter from Grenoble speaks of the continual arrivals of troops, and the formation of an armed corps in the Alps. Three French men of war had gone to Geneva, it was supposed, to accompany Prince Napoleon, and his bride to France. Three ships of the line, at Cherbourg, will immediately proceed to the Mediterranean.

A Congress of foreign powers, to assemble at London, to arrange the difficulties at present existing in Europe, was spoken of; and it was stated that the cabinet at Vienna, thought favorably of the plan, though they manifested hostility to it when first broached. The Paris correspondents of the Times and Herald, both say, that the waging off of hostilities, by means of such a Congress, was considered nugatory. The Herald correspondent adds, that there was feeling among the lower class, growing more intense. It is reported that Persigny is likely to be ambassador to England, and his reappointment is regarded as a sign of peace.

At the Paris Bourse, on the 28th, the announcement in Leiden, of a Commander-in-Chief being appointed for the Piedmontese army, and the rumor of an insurrection at Ravenna, had increased the flatness. The rates needed to Gf. 45c. There was an impatience towards the close of the market, and the last quotation was 65c. 50c.

ITALY.

The King was at Naples, with improving health. The Grand Duke of Tuscany has refused to accede to Austria's request, regarding the exchange of Tuscany for Austrian troops. The Prince of Wales is to visit the King of Sardinia, in the Spring. The British government had addressed a note to Sardinia, in reply, but very earnest terms, strongly disapproving the war policy. Mondina had sent five hundred men to watch the Piedmontese frontier. Lanificio, of Turin, says the alliance with France, was quite definite from the marriage of Prince Napoleon. The marriage strengthens the bond of unity. If France is to interfere for the independence of Italy, it is because her interests induce her, independent of this alliance.

AUSTRIA.

The Austrian news reports that the Emperor of Austria in an interview with the directors of the national bank, said the government could count with certainty, in case of need, on the strenuous support of the entire population of the German States, but assured them of his complete confidence in a speedy and amicable arrangement.

Russia.

It was reported that the Austrian and Russian governments, were on better terms. The Emperor Alexander, it was said, had written a letter to Emperor Francis Joseph, which the latter considered extremely satisfactory. A Russian loan for 30,000,000 rubles, had been readily concluded with the Rothschilds.

Considerable agitation existed throughout Austria, Poland, and Hungary. The ferment at Galicia was such, that 80,000 troops were concentrated along that frontier, prepared against an our break.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times, says Austria will never consent to the settlement of the Italian question, by a European Congress.

Fight in the State Senate—War almost to the Knife.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 15, 1859.

Mr. HUNTON:
Dear Sir: Just before 11 o'clock to day a most disgraceful scene occurred in the Senate chamber, which has caused great excitement here, and breaks up the session of the Senate in a row.

Hoffen, of Washington county, had said some most insulting things in regard to Gooding, of Hancock, which were published in this morning's Sentinel. This morning Gooding asked the indulgence of the Senate to make a personal explanation, and read the report of Hoffen's remarks from the Sentinel. The latter had left his seat and taken a position in the immediate vicinity of Gooding. When Gooding had finished reading he remarked that he did not understand the Senator from Washington to have used such language, in his remarks on that occasion, and asked the gentlemen if such were his language and his sentiments.

Hoffen replied, that such was his language and such his sentiments and that he now repeated all he had said; whereupon a most disgraceful fight ensued, in which were engaged Senator Gooding and two of his brothers, and during the melee L. W. Gooding, Recorder of Hancock county, struck Hoffen on the back of the head with a heavy hickory cane with a heavy silver head, cutting his head badly and making the blood run freely. Had not the force of the blow been somewhat abated by striking Hoffen's shoulder at the same time, it would most certainly have broken his skull and made a martyr of him.

Public sentiment is somewhat divided on the matter, all agreeing however that Hoffen was in the wrong at first and up to the time that Gooding's brothers pitched in to assist the Senator.

Hoffen has been arrested, and officers are looking for the Goodings.

A resolution will be offered immediately upon the meeting of the Senate this afternoon to expel both the belligerent Senators, and at present with a fair prospect of being adopted.

I was not present, but have this account from members of the Senate.

Yours, &c.

Drs. Wortman & Williams,

Are traveling Physicians, they establish a road and visit each place once in about six weeks. That course enables them to see their patients often, consequently they can practice with much better success than by writing.

One of them will be at the Terre-Haute House, in Terre-Haute on Saturday and Sunday, Feb 19th and 20th, 1859. They devote all their time to the study and treatment of Chronic Disease. Their extensive traveling affords them an opportunity to see and investigate a great variety of diseases. At nearly all the places they visit, their rooms are crowded with patients, all having different stages of disease, this gives them all the advantages that physicians derive from visiting Hospitals, they are prepared to treat, successfully, all curable cases. They treat Consumption and all diseases of the throat and air passages, by the inhalation of medicated vapors, together with general treatment. They also have from one hundred to several hundred cases under their special charge and treatment—they are discharging cured, and receiving new applicants daily. By their local and general treatment, Consumption, in its first and second stages, is as much under the control of medicines as any other formable disease. They wish it distinctly understood, that they are possession of, and use the Bromptown Hospital remedies, that were adopted after many years experience, and the treatment of nearly all cases.

The demand on the cavalry was so urgent that the government had given orders for the immediate purchase of a number of fine year-old horses.
